

All the announcements made so far on the Autumn Budget and Spending Review

Here is a brief run down of all the pledges in the budget so far:

Public pay freeze scrapped

The Chancellor is due to announce that the 12-month public sector pay freeze is to end, paving the way for more than five million workers to potentially receive a pay rise next year.

Minimum wage rise

Around two million workers will get a pay rise next year when the National Living Wage is increased from £8.91 an hour to £9.50.

'Levelling up' transport

Nearly £7 billion would be given to areas such as Greater Manchester, the West Midlands and South Yorkshire for projects ranging from tram improvements to introducing London-style improvements in infrastructure, fares and services.

Digital overhaul for the NHS

A £6 billion package will help tackle NHS backlogs and invest in technology and data to improve efficiency and security.

Health research and development

£5 billion over the next three years to fund research and development to tackle health inequalities.

If you want more stories like this...

You can sign up to our daily e-bulletins of business news or our weekly round-up of the best articles in key sectors. Sign up here

A 'skills revolution'

£3 billion for post-16 and adult education, including skills 'bootcamps', T-levels and funding for special educational needs

Housing on brownfield sites

£1.8 billion to help regenerate land and level up the country, includes 100 new urban "pocket parks" across UK.

Global Britain Investment Fund

The £1.4 billion fund will encourage internationally mobile companies to invest in the UK's critical industries, including life sciences and automotive.

Boost for museums and galleries

Over three years, £850 million will "breathe life" back into cultural hotspots.

Protection at the border

Ageing Border Force vessels will be replaced by new cutters as part of a £700 million investment.

Sports talent

Sports facilities will see £700 million of funding to help foster the next generation of sporting stars.

Maths coaching

A £560 million scheme to improve maths skills, as it was revealed more than eight million people in England have numeracy skills lower than those expected of a nine-year-old, with the North East, West Midlands and Yorkshire and the Humber worst affected.

The new Sure Start?

The Chancellor will announce a range of investments totalling £500 million towards support for families and children, including new family hubs.

Crime prevention

A £435 million package with a focus on violent offences against women.

Dragons' Den-style investors

A £150 million pot of funding for the British Business Bank will encourage the development of regional networks of Dragons' Den-style angel investors to help make people's dreams of starting a business a reality.

Post-Brexit tax rule changes

Tax changes will be introduced to try to tempt more of the world's largest shipping companies to UK shores.

Cutting-edge treatment for veterans

Innovative surgery could be available for veterans through research grants handed out by a new fund.

More on the Budget

What's in the Autumn Budget?

-

Boost for Wales

-

Top priorities

-

Don't put up taxes