

Ryanair announce new flight route to Milan from Belfast International Airport

Ryanair has announced a new flight route operating from Belfast International Airport as part of its Summer '23 schedule.

The budget airline will be increasing its offering in Northern Ireland with a new service to Milan Bergamo Airport.

It will operate three times weekly from April with seats already on sale for the new route.

Ryanair's Dara Brady said: "With Easter and Summer '23 fast approaching, we are delighted to be bringing even more choice and value to our Northern Ireland customers with the addition of this new Milan Bergamo route to our Summer '23 schedule, offering our customers in Belfast even more choice when planning their long-awaited summer holidays.

"To mark this good news, we've launched a limited-time seat sale for early bird customers looking to bag themselves a bargain on their Summer '23 holiday with fares from just £29.99 available now on Ryanair.com."

Last year, Ryanair announced its return to Belfast with 12 new flight routes – running 115 flights a week from Summer 2023.

Revealing their 'comeback' last July, Ryanair said the International routes include sun destinations such as Alicante, Faro, Barcelona-Girona and Malaga.
