German businesses feel gloomier about the next six months