Member states invest in new euro coins to celebrate special events