

Car insurance, Hipgnosis and EasyJet

The average cost of car insurance in the UK is now more than £900 according to one comparison website – that up 43% over the space of one year. Ian's joined by Steve Dukes, Chief Executive of Confused.com to discuss what it means for premiums and payouts.

Music investment company Hipgnosis has agreed to a £1.1bn takeover by Alchemy Copyrights. The fund owns 138 catalogues with more than 40,000 songs by artists including Blondie and Red Hot Chili Peppers.

And Security giant Cisco is teaming up with the design team at McLaren F1 on building and upgrading their cars – hear from Jeetu Patel, Cisco's Executive Vice President and General Manager.

:: Listen and subscribe to The Ian King Business Podcast here.

Advertisement