Lifting England's lockdown, Morrisons bidding war and cryptocurrency in Europe

On today's business podcast, Sky's Ian King speaks to industries waiting for details of England's final step out of lockdown, another firm considers a bid to takeover Morrisons, and one of the world's largest cryptocurrency exchanges is given a license to trade in Germany – the first in Europe.

:: Listen and subscribe to The Ian King Business Podcast here

Advertisement