

Lockdown hit to theatres, Morrisons takeover approach and fitness mirrors

How the “Freedom Day” delay is hitting the theatre industry: Ian hears from the boss of Sadler’s Wells about the need to get back to full capacity.

Plus, reaction as Morrisons rejects an approach from a US equity firm, and VAHA chief executive Valerie Bures-Bönström on the interactive mirror which acts as a personal trainer.

:: Listen and subscribe to The Ian King Business Podcast here.

Advertisement