

Pubs, grub and music

Sky's Ian King speaks to the boss of Young's – which owns more than 200 pubs and hotels – about the company's post-COVID recovery.

He looks into the meat-free food industry as California-based Impossible Foods launches in the UK.

And the boss of Hipgnosis Songs talks to Ian about an increasing number of older music artists selling the publishing rights to their songs – for millions of pounds.

:: Listen and subscribe to The Ian King Business Podcast here.

Advertisement