

Spending, Soames and the Science of Failing Well

In today's episode, Ian King discusses the new president of the CBI, Rupert Soames, with Sky's City editor Mark Kleinman.

He also talks about spending figures released by the British Retail Consortium.

And Ian welcomes Professor Amy Edmondson onto the show to discuss her latest book – Right Kind of Wrong: The Science of Failing Well.

:: Listen and subscribe to The Ian King Business Podcast here.

Advertisement